

INTERIOR DESIGN®

SEPTEMBER
2018

high on new york

James Corner Field Operations

project Domino Park, Williamsburg.

standout Among elements salvaged from the Domino Sugar refinery that once operated on the 6-acre site are iron syrup tanks and dozens of structural columns, the latter now supporting a two-block-long elevated catwalk, similar to the one that linked all the factory's structures.

photography Daniel Levin. ➤

"It's a nexus of old and new—the catwalk providing a trace of the past with a social balcony overlooking the park"